“ I remember stopping for a cold one down at Broad & Second Streets and Gordon was there. A bird flew into the bar and, frantically searching for a hiding spot, dove deep into his then-long hair. I had him sit down by the pool table and gently picked it out and let it go while he patiently (NOT) waited. I remember when we were partners in a bowling tourney up at Hilltop through Phyllis'/Camp's league and won the mixed team pot. I remember wandering around Schaghticoke Fair and neither of us wanting to win any goldfish. I remember you, Gordo. Rest easy. ❤️ ☐ my condolences to the Batto family.
