“ When I was first introduced to her in cohoes she was sitting in a chair making a blanket fir one of teddy joes kids. She attempted to show me later down the road and with her guidance along with Debbie guess who knows how to crochet. So thanks for the wonderful memory gram love you always.

“ I remember Lillian when she was up at Stony Creek (my sister Nancy's Place). She loved going up there. She liked the country up there and the quiet of the area. The last time I talked to her, she told me how much you enjoyed going up to the mountains. She will be missed. She will never be forgotten. My granddaughter, Ginny Lee, shared her birthday with Lillian. R.I.P. Lillian
